It is important that you read and understand all of the rights and restrictions set out in this software agreement (the "Agreement").

This Agreement is the legal agreement between you and Labelife with respect to the Software. Unless otherwise specified in a separate End User License Agreement or Conditions of Use, the Software also includes any upgrades, modifications, amendments and supplements to the Software provided by Labelife after your purchase and use of the Software. "Software" upgrades, fixes, revisions and supplements provided by Labelife after your purchase and use of the "Software". You should select the version of the Software that matches your terminal, system, etc. Otherwise, you may not be able to use the Software properly.

I. Access to software

1. You may obtain the Software from a third party legally authorised by Labelife.
2. If you obtain the Software or an installer with the same name as the Software from a third party that is not legally authorized by Labelife, Labelife cannot guarantee that the Software will work properly and will not be liable for any damage caused to you as a result.

II. Installation, use and uninstallation of the software

1. Different versions of the software for the Labelife range may have been developed for different terminals, systems, etc. You should download the appropriate version for your installation.
2. After downloading the installation program, you need to follow the steps indicated in the program to install it correctly.
3. If you no longer need to use the Software or need to install a new version, you can uninstall the Software yourself.

III. Updates to the software

1. In order to enhance the user experience and improve the service, Labelife will constantly strive to develop new features and provide you with updates from time to time (these updates may take the form of software replacements, modifications, feature enhancements, version upgrades, etc.).

2. In order to ensure the security and consistency of the service, Labelife enables automatic upgrades, updates etc. for you by default, i.e. Labelife has the right to update Labelife without special notice to you or to change or limit the effect of some of Labelife's features. If you do not wish to use the updated version, please contact Labelife (chriswill0521@gmail.com) and Labelife will revert to the previous version of the updated version for you and only for you.

IV. Copyright and other intellectual property rights

1. You must not remove any copyright marks and copyright notices from Labelife.

2. The copyright and other intellectual property rights in the content of the services provided by Labelife (including but not limited to text, photographs, graphics, images, diagrams, sounds, etc.) and the accompanying electronic materials belong to Labelife (except for trademarks and other rights belonging to third parties). Users may not reproduce, adapt or create derivative works in relation to the content without permission.

3. The intellectual property rights to any content (including but not limited to text, images, graphics, and notes) that the User uploads to the publicly accessible areas of the Labelife Software through the Labelife Platform Services belong to the User or the original rights holder. The User agrees that Labelife may use, reproduce, modify, adapt, publish, translate and create derivative works based on said content (in whole or in part) and incorporate said content into any other work or product currently known or later developed in any form.
